PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Business Analytics graduate who enjoys exploring complex business questions, connecting insights, and turning ideas into actionable solutions. My experience spans analytical projects, forecasting, consumer analysis, team leadership, cross-functional collaboration, and international academic exposure taught me the value of ownership, adaptability, and bringing people together around a shared vision. I'm building my foundation at the intersection of business, analytics, strategy, and people.

Comfortable learning, adapting, and taking initiative in evolving situations. Interested in Strategy, Business Development, Management, and Operations roles, with a strong motivation to bridge analytical thinking and practical execution through meaningful industry experience. I value environments that encourage experimentation, thoughtful decisions, collaboration, and the freedom to challenge conventional approaches.
